

The teaching style at Living Well Pilates ensures that participants do things correctly before going to the next level; baby steps, if you will.